GREASE MONKEY HELPS DENVER DRIVERS TUNE UP FOR THE ROADS AND THE SLOPES

With the Season Shaping Up, Drivers Can Enjoy a Free Ski or Snowboard Tune-Up with Any Oil Change on January 16 and January 17

Denver, CO (January 13, 2026) – Winter may be off to a slow start in Colorado, but ski and snowboard enthusiasts know the slopes are calling, and Grease Monkey® is here to make sure drivers are ready for both the road and the mountain. As Denver’s trusted leader in oil changes and preventive maintenance since 1978, Grease Monkey is giving drivers a unique two-for-one tune-up: stop in for an oil change on Friday, January 16, or Saturday, January 17, and get a complimentary professional ski or snowboard tune-up while you wait, because whether it’s your car or your gear, peak performance starts with proper care.

From 10:00 AM to 3:00 PM on January 16 and 17, Grease Monkey’s Colorado Boulevard location (2890 N. Colorado Blvd., Denver) will transform into a one-stop shop for winter readiness through a special partnership with GearFix – a network of Denver local bike and ski/snowboard mechanics providing expert tune-ups, repairs and custom adjustments to keep outdoor gear performing at its best. While Grease Monkey’s certified Pit Crew conducts a thorough multi-point inspection and completes essential services on each vehicle, customers can hand off their skis or snowboard to GearFix’s expert technicians for a professional tune-up. It’s the ultimate convenience: two critical tune-ups in one visit, so drivers can hit the road and the slopes with total confidence.

“The snow may be late, but that’s no reason to slow down,” said Stacey Pool, Chief Marketing Officer at FullSpeed Automotive. “This is the perfect time to get ahead and tune up your car and your gear so you’re ready the moment conditions improve. Stop in for an oil change, bring your skis or snowboard, and we’ll handle both while you wait. Two essential tune-ups with one easy visit.”

While winter continues to pump its brakes here in Denver, Grease Monkey is urging drivers to prioritize preventive maintenance so their vehicles are ready the moment conditions shift. Here are a few key services to keep in mind:

- Fluids - Routine oil changes are essential and the preventive maintenance golden rule, but don't overlook other fluids. Brake, transmission, coolant and windshield washer fluids all play a vital role in vehicle safety and longevity - make sure they're topped off.
- Battery Check - Cold weather can drain battery performance and increase the risk of failure, potentially leaving you stranded. Schedule a quick battery test to ensure it's fully charged and ready for winter.
- Tire Pressure - Dropping temperatures cause tire pressure to fall, reducing traction and control. Check your tire pressure regularly and keep it at the manufacturer's recommended PSI for safe handling.
- Visibility - Clear vision is critical in winter conditions. Replace worn wiper blades with winter-ready versions and upgrade dim headlights or refinish lenses to maximize visibility on the road.

Known for its fast, friendly and done right service, Grease Monkey puts trust and education at the heart of every interaction with customers. Its expertly trained, and certified Pit Crew technicians perform a complimentary 17-point inspection on every customer's vehicle and involves them in every recommended service that's presented, each of which is informed by the vehicle manufacturer's recommendation.
